From the Pastor:

In many ways there is no greater meditation than focusing on the Passion and death of Jesus. As we read through it this week, become part of it in honor of His wondrous love and in order to truly allow Him to become Lord of our lives. Pray that His ways become our ways, that He orders our lives in such a way that we, too, may "triumph with him over our enemy, sin," as Fr. Gabriel of St. Mary Magdalan, puts it.

"They pierced my hands and my feet; I can count all my bones."

We read elsewhere, in Psalm 22, looking forward to the coming of our Savior. "The Son of God was reduced to this condition for one single reason: love: love for the Father whose glory he wants to restore, love for mankind whom he wants to reconcile with the Father."

How can this infinite love not change us? Try to set aside all the distractions of the world this week to focus on God's love for you and ask Him to perfect His love in you. It's the greatest gift you could give the people in your lives. It's the gift He wants to give you: Himself, conforming your life to His.

*With love and prayers,
Fr. Francis*

Pope Francis' Thoughts for Lent

“ Fasting makes sense if it really chips away at our security and, as a consequence, benefits someone else; if it helps us cultivate the style of the Good Samaritan, who bent down to his brother in need and took care of him.”
